

Helmholtz School Extension

Frankfurt am Main, 2006 - 2009
Schools/educational facilities

schneider+schumacher extended the Helmholtz School with a new two storey building along Habsburger Allee with the building department of Frankfurt council as a client. Located on the ground floor of the extension is the new cafeteria, which will be required to be open during school hours. It overlooks the school yard and is bright and welcoming thanks to a full height timber post and beam facade. On the upper level are the school library and two new class rooms. A new internal staircase creates a connection to the existing neighbouring building. A canopy links both buildings together.
