Clara's Tree House is not just any tree house - it is pocket-sized architecture for the garden to delight both adults and children. Everyone can join in the fun by putting together the sophisticated geometry using a set of tried-and-tested instructions. The little wooden house with its green roof fits unobtrusively into any garden and is designed to be suspended safely and airily between branches or to be supported on posts in or near water. Generous glazing allows sublime views over the surroundings. During both summer and winter the tree house beckons one to linger, play and even spend the night there.
